Respondents have already complied with the order passed by this Tribunal and issued PPO even before the adjudication of the dispute on merit.

2. Learned counsel for the applicant prays for interest on the amount. Even though he relies upon various judgments to say that interests are payable but the payment of interest is the discretion of the Court and looking into the facts and circumstances of the present case, we see no reason to grant any interest. The prayer for interest stands rejected.

3. OA stands disposed of.
